

Lecture

Beyond an Age of Division — New Global Governance and United Nations Reform for the 21st Century —

How should the world address global challenges—such as climate change, conflict, and inequality—that cannot be solved by any single country? The speaker discusses a path toward building global governance befitting the 21st century by overcoming divisions through United Nations reform, the rule of law, and new mechanisms for international cooperation.

 Keynote Speech

Augusto Lopez-Claros

Executive Director, Global Governance Forum
Former Director, Global Indicators Group, World Bank

Tuesday, October 27, 2026
18:00 - 19:30 (JST)

Room 1702, Room 1702, 17th Floor, Building # 2

Language: English (No Japanese Interpretation)

Open to public / Admission Free / Registration required

Register Here

 Opening Remarks

Sali Augustine

Professor & Chancellor, Sophia University

 Moderator

Tetsuo Kondo

Specially Appointed Professor, Sophia University
Director, Sophia University Human Resources
Center For International Cooperation