

上智大学
SOPHIA UNIVERSITY

Sophia University
Global Competency Program
Global Action Lecture Series

From the front lines: Nonprofit leaders speak out about ... Refugees May 23rd 6:45-8:15pm

1

Sophia University, Yotsuya Campus
Building 6, Room 307

Panel Presentations series, all panels will be followed by open discussion.

Jane Best, Executive Director, Refugees International Japan (RIJ)

特定非営利活動法人国際難民支援会、事務局長

<http://refugeesinternationaljapan.org/>

RIJ funds projects for people displaced by conflict in countries around the world. RIJ supports projects that provide opportunities for people to lead an independent normal life while staying near to home and their loved ones; projects that enable people to give back to the community and make valuable contributions to the local economy as well as rebuilding their own future.

Hiroaki Ishii, Representative Director, Japan Association of Refugees (JAR)

常任理事 石井宏明 認定NPO法人 難民支援協会

<https://www.refugee.or.jp/>

As an organization of refugee protection experts, JAR provides comprehensive assistance for individual refugees, from the critical stage immediately following their arrival until they can lead a self-supporting life. Our mission is to ensure that all refugees who flee to Japan seeking help will be saved and settle down in the new land with hope.

Moderator: Sarajeon Rossitto, Sophia University, Nonprofit NGO consultant

Host: Prof. David Slater, Coordinator, Global Competency Program, Sophia University

2 June 13th 6:45-8:15 Nonprofit leaders speak out about ... Poverty

3 July 11th 6:45-8:15 Nonprofit leaders speak out about ... Gender

In English; without translation.

Open to the public; no charge, no prior registration necessary

Location: Sophia University,

7-1 Kioicho, Chiyoda-ku, Tokyo 102-8554

Access: Yotsuya station (JR, Marunouchi and Namboku subway lines)

Map link to campus: http://www.sophia.ac.jp/eng/info/access/directions/access_yotsuya

Map link to campus building: http://www.sophia.ac.jp/eng/info/access/map/map_yotsuya

Email Contact: sophia.Global.Action@gmail.com