

In the name of Sophia University, I welcome Deputy Secretary-General, Ms. Amina Mohammed. It is great honor and pleasure for Sophia University as well as for all the students who are connected online to receive the special lecture. Sophia University was visited by UN Secretary-General, Mr. Antonio Guterres in 2017, and has deepened its relationship through internship programs at UN agencies and other activities of cooperation.

We hope that the special lecture “Achieving the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and Realizing Youth Aspirations In a Disrupted World” given by Deputy Secretary-General, Ms. Amina Mohammed will open up the motivation and longing for more young people to tackle global issues. Thank you.
